OPENING GUN IS FIRED IN PLANNING FOR OLD SETTLERS' DAY CELEBRATION

First meetings by heads of committees for the 62nd annual Old Settler's Day celebration, February 19-22, will be held Monday evening at 7:30 in the office of Laurance J. Hill, at the Campbell Union High School, to map strategy for this year's celebration which promises to be the biggest and best in local history. Major change in this year's celebration, according to Hill, is that the festivities will be spread out over a period of three days instead of the one day affair customary in the past. This has been done, Hill said, to permit leisurely enjoyment of all events planned for the community's biggest holiday and to anticipate changes in the weather.

LAURANCE J. HILL
Old Settler's Day Chairman

The festive atmosphere of California's second oldest celebration in terms of continuity of annual recognition, will be further enhanced by a three day carnival with merry-go-rounds and other amusements for the kiddies on the the High School grounds, sports activities, and other afternoon entertainment, and the usual performance in the evenings by the Campbell Footlighters, Ira Grim said.

Hill, as general chairman of the event sponsored this year by the Campbell Kiwanis Club, appointed Norm Corvello, publicity chairman; John Duncan, souvenir program, Bill Enochs, finance and Jim Arends, traffic.

Henry Jewell has been appointed grand marshall of the parade which is scheduled for Monday afternoon as a climax to activities. The parade itself is under the direction of Ira Grim, postmaster.

Mark Purmort and Herb Shadle are in charge of registration of old settlers. C. P. Klassen was appointed chairman of the carnival. Afternoon program is under the direction of Joseph V. Gomes. Ethan Lanphear has charge of dinner and refreshment sales. The evening program is under Budd Levenberg assisted by George Kemp and Dean Chamberlin. Ken Robison has charge of the dance.

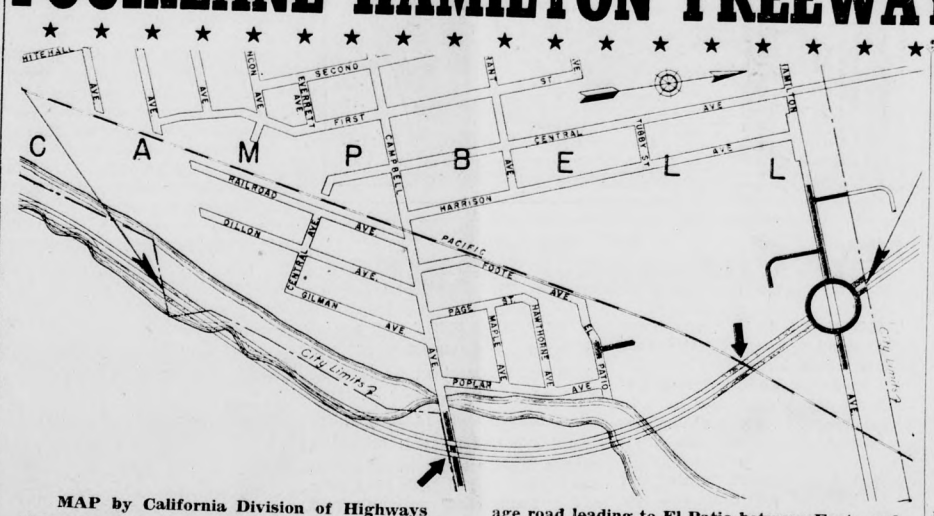
Benjamin, son of William Campbell, crossed the plains with his father in 1846, fought against Spanish forces in battles at Mission Santa Clara, site of the present University, and at Salinas. With his father he operated a sawmill at Long Bridge, above Saratoga. Instead of joining the gold rush in 1849, Benjamin at 20 years of age went back to Missouri to marry Mary Rucker. He returned in 1852 leading a wagon train which included his wife, her mother and father, his sister's family, the James Washington Finleys, and Newton Finley, their son. Upon arrival in the Santa Clara Valley, Campbell bought 160 acres extending from the present Winchester Road on the west, Sunnyside Avenue on the south, Los Gatos Creek on the east and Latimer Avenue on the north.

This ranch founded by Benjamin Campbell grew into the present city of Campbell. He and other old settlers will be honored in the 1954 Old Settler's Day Celebration February 19-22.

FOUR-LANE HAMILTON FREEWAY APPROACH SOUGHT



MAP by California Division of Highways shows how the new freeway will be routed over Hamilton and Campbell avenues with the traffic interchange over Hamilton avenue and the grade separation for the railroad. The city wants four lane instead of two lane frontage roads to Hamilton avenue and a four lane span for Campbell avenue. The map shows a frontage road leading to El Patio between Foote and Poplar avenues. The freeway continues along the creek in an elevated position, crossing over Casey Road to another traffic interchange at Camden avenue, then on to half mile south of Los Gatos to the west and Bascom avenue, San Jose.

CITY COUNCIL ALSO WANTS FOUR-LANE OVERPASS SPAN FOR CAMPBELL AVE.

A four-lane approach to Hamilton avenue from the Route 5 Freeway was favored Monday night by members of the Campbell city council in a contention that only by this means would a dangerous left turn be eliminated from the plan as submitted by the California Division of Highways. Councilman Joseph Gomes pointed out that motorists leaving the freeway on a ramp structure would have to make a left turn for Hamilton avenue in order to go east toward Willow Glen, referring to this situation as a potential "deathtrap".

Nestor Barrett, planning consultant said that he had studied the plan and also felt that the structure should be at least of four lanes instead of two as now proposed, but he added that the freeway overpass of Campbell avenue should have a span either four or six lanes. City Engineer Mark Thomas said the Campbell avenue span should be at least enough for four lanes. City Attorney Joseph A. Bonacino said we are potentially not protected from left turns under the present plans but rights of way and inverse condemnation may be required to expand the lip of the overpass structure. He said the agreement lacked definiteness in condemnation proceedings for the closing of streets. The Hamilton avenue improvement he considers to be one of the most important locally while the freeway is to be one of the most expensive in the state system.

A committee including Mayor Richard Morton, the city engineer and the planning consultant will review findings with the state and report at the next meeting.

Campbell, now a part of Sanitation District No. 4, seeks a clearer understanding regarding sewer connections from unincorporated areas. Stephen Goodwin, district manager for the district, said that storm sewage from Los Gatos would be controlled in such a way as not to be a hazard to Campbell. His letter to the council asked permission for Lewis E. Smith, subdivider of Shady Acres Unit No. 4 to connect with the Campbell trunk line along Hamilton avenue. The city attorney will report on a method for collecting service charges from unincorporated properties using Campbell sewage lines.

The Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company wrote concerning a change in easement for Shady Acres subdivision 3. Ralph E. Weaver, subdivider wants Hamilton Square rezoned from first to second residential. The city clerk was instructed to write advising that such request be first submitted to the planning commission. The Campbell Union School district by letter requested speed zone signs for Budd and Rincon avenues in view of opening next Monday of the new Cherry Lane school, the request being referred to the traffic engineer for a report next Monday.

ANIMAL CLINIC APPROVED

Councilman James Arends reported having inspected the building and premises of the Richard Weldon small animal clinic as to its conformity with original plans indicating that the building conformed with conditions set up in the use permit, so by a four to one vote, the city clerk was instructed to write the building inspector authorizing granting of final inspection report. Dissenting vote was by Councilman Oliver P. Jensen.

Nestor Barrett reported hearings scheduled before the county planning commission on February 3 involving zoning changes on the northeasterly and southwesterly corners of Pamlar avenue intersecting with Los Gatos-San Jose road, and the westerly side of the Los Gatos-San Jose road from Campbell avenue to Apricot avenue. Matters involving county zoning changes come to his attention, he said in time for bringing before the Campbell planners but said subdivision maps often fail to arrive in time. This will be taken up with the planners.

CITY ELECTION

Public Hearing On Highway Plan Next Thursday

Second public hearing on the proposed Master Street and Highway Plan for the city of Campbell will be held next Thursday evening when the city planning commission holds their regular meeting at the Campbell Fire House.

Also to be heard will be resolutions of intention by the Mayfair Packing Company for a change of zone for their property located on the southeast corner of the San Jose-Los Gatos Road and Hamiltton avenue. Application of William C. Henley for a change of zone for property located on the West side of Mission Way will be heard, as Winchester Road south of well as that of E. C. Kuehnis for a change of zone of Lots 17, 18, 19, and 20 Unit 1; and lots 63, 64, 65, 66, and Unit 2 of the Kuehnis Estates.

Planning consultant Nestor Barrett is scheduled for a report on the Shady Acres subdivision, Unit four, and tract No. 470 of the A. G. Warning property on Campbell avenue near San Tomas Aquino Creek.

Barrett is also to report on problems in administering the master zoning ordinance recently adopted. A report is also due concerning progress in preparing a brochure for the city-wide street survey, scheduled for February.

WILLOW GLEN, MAYPARK AREA ELECTION SLATED

A special election will be held, January 14 at the Byron Bollinger residence 1610 Dry Creek Road, to decide if "South Willow Glen No. 17" property shall be annexed to the city of San Jose. The property, proposed under provisions of a San Jose ordinance adopted November 23, 1953 to be annexed, is roughly bounded by Pine avenue on the north, Cottle Road on the east, on the south by Dry Creek Road, between Cherry Lane and Cottle Road, and on the west by the existing San Jose city limits. It will include the Willow Woods subdivision.

Another election slated for January 7th is to decide if residents of Maypark No. 1, which lies within the Campbell Union High School district, wish their property annexed to San Jose. It includes a 20 acre tract along the easterly of the Santa Clara-Los Gatos road at the Stevens Creek Road intersection. It is bounded roughly by Stevens Creek road across from Marco avenue on the north, Downing avenue on the south, Daniel Way on the east and on the west in the neighborhood of Baywood avenue.

The boy's father said his son had told him how the three boys, two 13-year olds, and a fifteen year old, had taken a joy ride, but had abandoned the Baker car at Salinas when it developed motor trouble. The boys then took a three-hour walk along a creek bed, and when they returned to the car it was gone, the story as told by the boy's father went on. One of the younger boys said, according to his father, that the others intended to steal another car and keep on going.

The Santa Clara County Sheriff's office to whom the theft was reported, said the Salinas police had picked up the car from a description given by the Sheriff's Office.

But when a representative of the insurance company went to Salinas to recover the stolen automobile, he reported to the Bakers, that the Salinas Police could not find the automobile. Nor has word been received of the whereabouts of the two missing boys, according to the Sheriff's Office.

Green called the Santa Clara County Sheriff's office who took him to a first aid station where no serious injuries were reported.

EDITORIAL

WHAT MAKES THE NEW YEAR NEW?

The New Year will be no better because of what you do on January first, nor will the old year be any worse for lack of a big send-off. They are but one day of each other, so what really counts is what goes on the other 364 days of the year.

We do not oppose good resolutions or good parties. Seems that for one to be happier in 1954 it might be well to get out and do things rather than just vowing to do it. Go to church regularly, attend community functions, drive carefully, buy at home, be less grouchy, have that physical check-up. Do these things. Promises won't help the church attendance nor will they build your bank account. Promises won't improve the disposition. A smile will.

In wishing you a prosperous and bright New Year, we repeat once again, that the year will be pretty much what you make of it. Make it good.

ON BEING COMMUNITY MINDED

The year 1954 will be a crucial one in Campbell, a year of careful planning for new commercial enterprises, new subdivisions, new industries, new schools and other developments. The city planning commission and the city council set the pattern for these in the latter months of the old year. They are to be commended for their painstaking work and resourceful planning.

Now we are at a time when these ideas for commercial expansion must jell. Is Campbell to be ringed with shopping centers and become a bedroom for other Santa Clara County cities? Will offstreet parking be adequate for a centralized commercial district? Will there be a common and central interest to increase pedestrian traffic in the downtown shopping area and will it be sustaining? Will a major department store actually locate in Campbell, as unofficially reported? Will payrolls increase in the new year? Will the lady with the purse under her arm be induced to stay in Campbell for her shopping needs, or will she be lured away by the enticing appeals in out-of-town media? The answer may be whether we are seriously interested in going all out for Campbell, our home town. The answer comes from our understanding of what constitutes the general welfare of the community, rather than in special interests.

Indeed, 1954 is to be an important year. Much depends on our being community-minded in all matters for that is the way cities are made.

For the first time in history the Bureau of Internal Revenue is to provide tax collectors' offices with blank checks for use of taxpayers during the coming "crucial" period. There goes another excuse.

NUMBER, PLEASE!

It is hard to conceive that more than 18,000 calls are handled daily at the Campbell telephone exchange. It's even more difficult to realize that in eight years there has been a 513 per cent increase in the number of daily calls here. Yet those are official figures. There are 5665 telephone users served by the local exchange.

The company has spent $1,271,000 on new facilities in Campbell since 1945. To meet the population and economic growth the company has extension jobs under way here today which will cost $125,000. This is a good barometer for things to come in Campbell. Don't sell your home town short.

AN EYE ON THE FUTURE

It is good foresight on the part of the city council to insist now on a four lane approach from Hamilton avenue to the proposed new freeway and a span wide enough for the freeway to pass over four lanes on Campbell avenue. Once this freeway is built it would be impossible to change these physical features so it is best to prepare for future developments.

RADAR GUARDS THE BAY

On top of Mt. Tamalpais in Marin County there is an innocent looking water tank which in actuality is a five million dollar radar base. It alerts Hamilton Field fighter planes every time an object comes within electronic focus 200 miles on the seaward side.

Fifteen seconds after Hamilton Field is notified of any unidentified object, jet fighters are ordered up and away to investigate the target, gun manned and ready with live ammunition in the event of a hostile plane.

Of course we are not that close to anticipating war, but in this day of the atom and hydrogen bomb, our greatest security from attack lies in the alertness of our aircraft. How many more such tanks there may be around the bay area is something which should not be made known to any but the military service.

NEW YEAR

The whistles will blow tonight. The bells will ring. We will acclaim the little chap whose only possession seems to be a diaper; his badge of authority is a safety pin, and on whose banner is inscribed the word which marks the only real difference between youth and age.

That word is hope!

RESOLUTIONS?

The Campbell Gambol

JANUARY is to be a month for pruning and many of the rose bushes which have been yielding such gorgeous blooms during December's balmy days will have to be cut back . . . some authorities say that the rose will bloom all the year around in Campbell if allowed to go without pruning but of course that sacrifices the size of the blooms later on . . . the Campbell rose seems to be something of rare beauty and many of the gardens are provided prolific coloring from them.

OFFICIAL bloom here though, as we understand it, is the Kwanzan tree, more commonly known as the Japanese flowering cherry and it will be that flower which will be noticed as characteristic of Campbell in early Spring as hundreds of these trees have been given to new home owners by the Campbell Garden Club in a move to have every home front with a flowering cherry tree . . . same tree as seen along the Potomac in Washington, D. C. planted there during the administration of Theodore Roosevelt . . . many homes in Campbell have two or more of these trees, as there are both early and late flowering varieties, the estimate being that approximately 2000 of these trees are now growing in Campbell, which number will in time, provide the "orchard city" with a riot of color, come Springtime.

THE PEACE ROSE now one of the favorites for fanciers of size, originated in Lambert Gardens at Portland . . . it is one to be admired too because of its various stages of development, changing from a light yellow in bud to a white petal tinged with pink then in its final glory resembling a mammoth sized White Ophelia holding its head erect on a long, strong stem . . . the Lambert Gardens if visited in the late spring time will glow with the azalea, tulips, roses, flowering shrubs and trees, but the color will be no better than we have within our immediate environs.

HOPPING THE HIGHWAYS enables one to see the way others live though and, on returning home, if one is so fortunate as to live on the Peninsula, a new appraisal of our environment is bound to be made . . . we see activity, color, and a diversity of interests in a semi-metropolitan area, a realm as cultural as we wish to make of it, an invigorating climate with a seasonal pulse which may lead us to the ocean, the mountains, the big trees, the world's greatest universities, theatres and famous eating places, all within an hour's ride in an automobile . . . but you have to go away from time to time to appreciate all of this.

Profile of The Week

This column attempts to acquaint Campbell residents with the background of most of its leading citizens, to make for a greater interest in the activities of the Campbell area.

Pictures from the files of the Campbell Press will be drawn, by lot, for the first of the articles. When this supply is exhausted, pictures of newer residents will be taken, to run in conjunction with stories.

Twenty eight year old, six foot six inch, 250 pound Jerry F. O'Connell, member of Campbell's first police force, was appointed, appropriately enough, on St. Patrick's Day, March 17, 1953.

While only on the force five months, O'Connell made news headlines in the course of patrol activities, by assisting Royal Canadian Mounted Police in the capture of an itinerant fruit picker living in a Campbell trailer court, wanted for questioning in a Canadian murder. O'Connell also received plaudits from local citizenry for halting objectionable motion pictures at a local theater.

JERRY O'CONNELL

The burly, but good natured patrolman, joined the Campbell force after police work in Redwood City, where he had also worked in the lithography trade from 1948 to 1953.

Following graduation from San Francisco elementary and high schools, O'Connell started to work in lithography in 1942, remaining there a year until he joined the Merchant Marine. There followed three and a half years at sea, during which O'Connell worked as a deck hand in all parts of the world, and worked his way to the position of Boatswain, his size and weight being a decided advantage in carrying out his duties.

He traveled around the world twice.

O'Connell has been married since 1944 to the former Roberta E. White, a graduate of San Jose State College. The couple make their home at 14580 Camden Ave., with their two children, Maureen, 6, and Sharon, 4. A third child, Deborah Ann, born June 10th, 1953, died September 5.

O'Connell lists deer hunting as his favorite hobby. In his rifle collection at home are a .32 calibre, 30-30 carbine, a .32 special and a .22 long rifle.

His shooting is far from hit or miss, hunting companions attest.

SOCCER AHEAD

Athletic directors at Campbell and Union schools feel today that soccer may gain popularity for both boys and girls. Berkeley Mathews, Union district physical educatioon director and Bob Nandraith holding the same position for Campbell, both say that soccer will be included in their programs. The former contends that soccer depends on skill in manipulating the ball rather than height and physical strength as in basketball. The small boy has an equal chance to become proficient.

Bon Voyage '53

Goodbye '53 now we're not crabbing, old fellow,
We're sorry to see you go,
Bue we want to see that friend of yours,
Nineteen Fifty four, you know.

The gang all want to meet him
But before that whistle blows,
Say, don't take it that way,
Here's my hankie, blow your nose.

Of course we've had our quarreds,
All friendships do have tifts,
But remember those dear moments,
Remember those handsome gifts.

Now stick your chin out, Fella,
We're giving you a great big hand,
You did a grand year's work, Boy,
In this here promised land.

All these whistles and horns I 'spose,
Seem like camouflage,
But what we mean, Old Comrade,
Is simply "Bon Voyage".

Lorraine Wood Becomes Bride Of Noble Hancock

Colorful wedding rites were held at the Congregational Church Sunday, December 27 for Lorraine Alice Wood and Noble Hancock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Hancock of Reno, with Rev. Corwin H. Olds and Rev. J. H. Bennett officiating at the evening candlelit ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Woods, said her vows in a waltz length gown of imported chantilly lace and nylon tulle, featuring long sleeves, fitted bodice, and bouffant skirt. A tiera of orange blossoms held in place the finger-tip veil and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and bouvardia.

Westley Hancock, brother of the benedict, served as best man, and ushering duties were performed by Merritt Hancock and Harvey Woods, brother of the bride.

GROWTH OF CAMPBELL IN YEAR 1953 GIVES PROMISE OF SUCCESSFUL 1954

The year 1953 in Campbell was marked by a period of steady growth in population as indicated in school studies, post office receipts, and increase in telephone installation. Physically too, the city expended by annexation, and economically, the trend has been toward more and better business establishments.. City boundaries were extended during the past year to include annexation for school purposes of 40 acres of lands of Agnes Moriera, Luis Smith, Charles Rose, H. C. Kawahara and Haru Mayeda; the Benson Steindorf annexation at Hamilton avenue; the Dave Sanders land off Budd avenue and the Prestigiacomo property west of Winchester and north of Rosemary Lane.

Population increase was indicated by postal receipts for the year 1953, according to postmaster Ira H. Grim. Total receipts for the year amounted to over $70,000, a $12,000 increase over sales for 1952.

Telephone use increased with the installation to a total of 5665 new telephones according to W. E. Williams, telephone district manager. In 1945 there were but 1500 telephones here. Local residents by the end of the year were placing a record high of more than 21,600 calls a day, he said. Underway are three telephone line extension jobs, costing $123,000 to provide facilities for new subscribers.

Local school districts and residents aware of the expanding school age population voted close to three million dollars for new school construction in the Campbell and Cambrian Park area. Last month, voters of Campbell Union High School District passed 3792-902, a $2,500,000 bond election to build a new high school at Union and Camden avenues. A week later, Cambrian Park voters passed better than 11-1 a $200,000 school bond and $600,000 apportionment limitation election to build at least two new elementary schools in the district. Vote was 545 to 40.

Campbell City government, after the hard work of organization in 1952, continued to plan and shape the city for the years to come. First big job city officials undertook was to adopt the city's first budget of $93,467 with a tax rate of 51 cents on each $100 of the city's $5,900,000 assessed valuation. Provisions were made for street cleaning, street signs, street repairs, retirement pay for city employees and for planning commission surveys.

A seven member planning commission took oaths of office in January of last year and is currently working on a city street survey with the help of area and civic officials. Changes in planning commission personnel included appointment of John M. Chargin as chairman of the commission at the resignation of Kenneth M. Priestley. Priestley still serves on the commission and was recently reappointed by mayor Richard W. Morton to an additional term along with Homer Hyde when their current terms expired in December.

New street signs appeared on city streets, a project of Campbell Rotary Club assisted by Future Farmers of America from Campbell Union High School. A new deputy clerk Evelyn Scott, was hired to assist city clerk Dorothy P. Trevethan. Former Officer Robert J. Locke was appointed Chief of Police. New police officer, Alfred Cook, was hired but replaced by officer Tom Casey.

With the resignation of J. Frederick Snyder, who moved his residence to San Jose, Oliver P. Jensen, local contractor was appointed to the city council.

City passed its master zoning map and ordinance, amended its traffic ordinance and adopted numerous other ordinances in key legislative actions throughout the year.

On the local business scene, biggest event was the opening of the Cornet five-ten- and twenty-five cent variety store on East Campbell avenue at the former location of Campbell Furniture and appliance store, now in a San Jose location. Other business transactions in the city which cause comment was the application for two million dollar shopping centrs, one at the corner of Winchester and Latimer on 12 acres of the H. Y. Rice property, and another for the corner of Hamilton and the San Jose Los Gatos road, from Stone and Shulte, subdividers of the Kuehnis Estates on Hamilton avenue. Action is still pending on these applications.

Other highlights of the 1953 business season, included the purchase of Snider Condiments business from General Food by Hunts Foods Inc. local cannery. Local superintendent Elvan A. Hansell, was transferred to the Hunt plant at Hayward, Roy Howard took over as local manager.

The Sunsweet plant and dehydrator, largest in the world chalked up a record season for prune drying when it processed 15,000 tons, the largest since 1948.

The Campbell Press changed hands in September, 1953, when Lester E. Lafferty, former San Carlos publisher, purchased the plant from Eugene W. Barnes, Clifford T. Cassiday and Patrick Peabody. Barnes recently purchased the Corning Observer. Cassiday purchased a minority interest in the Press.

Fred E. Jones Sr., who had owned and operated the service station at the corner of Campbell avenue and Winchester road for 27 years, sold out to Glenn A. Skillrud.

Campbell Upholstery and Glass shop, run by co-owners Nick DiMusio and Tom Walter; and Florentine Delicatessen, with owner-operators Angie Marianelli and Nadine Ginestra were the first of their kind in the city when they opened, side-by side last year on Winchester road, across from the Five-spot.

Gene Basinger took over ownership of Quito Electronics on Cox avenue in the Quito Shopping center.

A new milk company, the first in the city was started by Al Vierra last June. Other business additions in the city included: new bike shop on Campbell avenue, under Steven O'Connor, and Cloelia Riordan; Del Lucot's new accounting offices at 20 E. Campbell avenue; new photo studio, the Bona Ventura studios in the friendly shopping center on E. Campbell avenue; new real estate office staffed by manager Mrs. Martha Field and real estate salesman, Alver Hansen opened in Campbell under the name "Sunland".

Martins Restaurant at the end of Campbell avenue, on the San Jose Los Gatos Road was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. William Harrison and renamed "The Virginian".

Cambrian Park's first dentist, Dr. Robert Panick opened offices last year at 14588 Union avenue.

Births and deaths were too numerous to mention but the city mourned the loss of Leslie Kerr, well known former federal analytical aduitor, whose exhaustive reports to the people of Campbell on expected income and expenditures, for the new city was credited to the success of the election.

Herold Morton, father of Campbell's first mayor too, is missing from the Campbell scene. He died of a heart attack, February 11. He was a member and past master of Charity Lodge F & A. M., Shrine Knights Templar, past president of Campbell Kiwanis, Chamber of Commerce and former owner and operator of Campbell Lumber Company. Otis Hyde, 73, oldest son of the late George E. and Alice Hyde, pioneer Campbell residents, is another well-known resident who passed away in the old year, as did Rex Fuller, former San Jose Liquor control officer and popular Campbell resident.

In straight news highlights in the year, 1953, a recap of Press headlines recalled the efficiency of the local police force when they captured and itinerant Indian fruit picker and his wife, Cecil and Edna Sampson, wanted by Canadian Mounted Police for questioning in a Canadian murder of a convicted Chinese bootlegger in 1950. Couple were apprehended by local police at a Gilman avenue trailer camp, after a drinking argument.

Morris Vossler, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Vossler, co-pastors of Campbell Calvary Temple, was credited with an assist in the capture of a 39-year old Indianapolis salesman, wanted in five states for questioning on forgery charges. Young Vossler, part time attendant at a local service station, spotted a revolver sticking in a customers belt and notified Campbell Police.

Biggest fire in the city last year gutted the home of Mrs. Mamie McHatton in March last year. Damage to the building at 43 South Second Street was estimated at $2200.

Two Campbell boys Mike Carlino and Robert Rice, were rewarded for their honesty with checks for $50 each, when they returned $774, found in an abandoned shack on West Rincon avenue. Rewards were made by Campbell attorney Martin S. Walsh, to whom the boys reported their find, and who filed a claim in their behalf.

Orchard City Grange, under master A. J. Emery celebrated its Golden Jubilee last April. Honored attendents were charter members Mrs. Jessie Campbell, a descendant of Benjamin Campbell who founded the town, and Mrs. Charlotte Sutter, oldest living native inhabitant of the city and daughter of Larry Willits, pioneer settler. Also honored were Mrs. Meredith Husted and William Finnemore, who joined the Orchard City Grange in the year of its inception, 1903, and have been members ever since.

Steven Alan Brown, first baby born in Campbell in 1953, arrived at 11.17 a. m. New Year's Day to parents Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Brown, of 37 E. Rosemary Lane.

Winner of 1953 sweepstakes award at Old Settler's Day Celebration was the "Portola Expedition" composed of Campbell Cub Scout Pack 9, sponsored by Campbell Congregational Church. Sun? sweet float by Campbell Co-operative Dryer was winner of the commercial float division.

Mrs. Edna Smith, former owner of the Campbell Press was voted most outstanding woman in the city at a meeting of over 200 representative women leaders in Santa Clara County.

Ralph Noddin for 32 consecutive years a teacher at Campbell Union High School retired at the end of the 1952 school year, with appropriate ceremonies at the local High School. Also in June, Stephen Voykovich was awarded the Cardinal Spellman award as the most outstanding student at Fordham graduation.

The year 1953 was a successful one for followers of local High School athletics. For the second year in a row, the High School Buccaneers won a co-SCVAL football championship with Fremont High School.

Joaquin Payne and Fred Jones Jr., look over the new signs before they were erected in the city as a civic project of Campbell Rotary Club.

Honesty of Campbell youths Mike Carlino and Robert Rice paid off, when Campbell attorney Martin S. Walsh, to whom the boys returned the money presents a check for $50 to Mrs. Robert Rice. A similar check was mailed to Mrs. Carlino.

Campbell city council is shown at work in the regular weekly meetings at Country Woman's Clubhouse. Biggest job completed in the old year was the adoption of the first city budget of $93,467 with a tax rate of 51 cents on each $100 of the city's $5,900,000 assessed valuation. City also adopted its master zoning map and ordinance.

Morton was called away from the meeting. A map and check filed by A. G. Warning subdivision skirting the westerly city limits was seemingly in good order, but was referred to the planning commission and boundaries commission for clearance.

N. Nimericks' offer of a $490 bond for curb and gutter work on his Winchester avenue property was denied because of indefinite period of time before actual work can start, the city indicating that a cash deposit be made. Yesterday Nimerick delivered his check in this amount to the city clerk.

Campbell Girl Is Nurse Doll Winner In National Contest

Jo Ann Silveria, 621 Pamlar Avenue, Campbell, has been chosen a national winner of a large-size Miss Curity nurse doll in a first-aid contest conducted by Beuer & Black, Chicago manufacturers of first-aid supplies and surgical dressings.

The competition has provided youngsters with first-aid education in an entertaining way.

Contestants were required to color the pictures in a Miss Curity first-aid comic book story, and to compose a title for the story.

The first-aid training of the winners will continue, for the doll prizes are completely outfitted with nurses' uniforms and first-aid kits containing nurse equipment in miniature and real first-aid supplies.

More than 2,000 prizes are being awarded to little girls all over the United States, including a grand prize of a $1,000 U. S. Savings Bond for the best entry submitted, which will be announced soon.

Oliver P. Jensen is shown being sworn in as a member of Campbell City Council, after his appointment by Mayor Richard W. Morton to fill the unexpired term of Dr. J. Frederick Snyder who resigned when he moved his residence out of the city.

Miss Oma Perry Oil Paintings Are Shown Here

Through her recent connections with the Campbell Press, Miss Oma Perry, who made many friends in Campbell, is now showing a number of her original oil paintings at Dave Ribble's Campbell Stationery Store, at 200 E. Campbell Ave., for a short period.

Miss Perry is noted for her florals, which are done in a large free style, which makes them particularly appropriate in the new modern style homes.

Her hydangeas won awards in large exhibitions and her scenics of the desert with the wild flowers and smoke trees bring out true desert colors.

One of her "Redwoods" hangs in the office of the Forestry Service building in Washington and was owned by the Assistant chief of the Forestry Service.

She has studied under such notables as Arthur Hill Gilbert of Carmel and Monterey, George Demont Otis, of Kentfield and under the famous French painter, Lucien Labault who was at one time art instructor at Montalvo.

He was later Life Magazine illustrator and during the war was sent over seas to paint war scenes. Unfortunately in crossing "The Hump" the plane he was on was wrecked and all aboard were killed and his paintings destroyed.

Miss Perry lives in Los Gatos and has a studio under construction at 75½ Alpine Avenue, which is nearing completion.

She belonged to The Marin Artists Society for a number of years as well as the Carmel Art Association, but plans to join the Los Gatos Art Association, now.

This present one man show will be on display for ten days only.

is a worn out windshield wiper

Suppose you're riding along with a beat-up windshield wiper blade. Bango, along comes rain or snow. And then where are you? Standing out in the rain or snow, mostly, trying to wipe off the windshield enough so you can see. Or, if you insist on driving, you're just as likely as not to get your block knocked off. Isn't that silly? You should've fixed your windshield wiper.

Joe McKinnon To Seek Re-election

A contest loomed today for County Supervisor in the Fourth District as both Joseph McKinnon, incumbent, and Parker Hathaway, San Jose mayor announced candidacies for the office. The office pays $3600 per year.

San Jose, Campbell and Santa Clara are in the fourth supervisorial district and, according to Hathaway, these cities contribute forty per cent of the tax base in Santa Clara County. He expressed an interest in more recreation facilities such as planned park sites and in having the county share in maintaining San Jose's Recreation Department.

McKinnon, now chairman of the board, has been a member of the County Board of Supervisors since 1926. He resides in the Campbell area on Saratoga Road.

Dist. Atty. N. J. Menard will not be a candidate for a superior judgeship, he said, but he will seek re-election to his present position. He will issue a campaign statement later, he said.

Already announced as a candidate for re-election is Sheriff Howard Hornbuckle, with several names mentioned as possible opponents, including Phil Cuffaro, former deputy. William Young, private detective, and others.

In this connection, Barton L. Collins, chief of detectives for the San Jose Police Department, said "you can include me out of that picture," when asked if he is a candidate for sheriff.

Polio Prevention Promised In 1954

Sparked by the promise of the first major turning point—polio prevention---in the 15-year battle against this dread disease, the 1954 March of Dimes will open a month-long campaign in Santa Clara County January 2 aimed at raising a record $112,500.

Chairman for Campbell will be Laurance J. Hill.

County Campaign Chairman, Parker L. Hathaway, mayor of San Jose and himself a former polio victim, explained that the sum will be split three ways in orded to best expedite the work of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

One-third, he said, will be allocated to the National Foundation for immediate use in the polio prevention campaign. The remaining two-thirds will bedi vided between the County chapter, for its work in aiding polio-stricken families bear the cost of treatment, and the National Foundation for its three-phase program of research, professional education and aid to individual chapters.

PG&E Los Gatos Office To Go On Five-Day Week

The five-day, week has been placed in effect at the local office of Pacific Gas and Electric Company, and it will be closed this Saturday, Los Gatos Local manager, P. J. Straub reminded the public today. Pay stations in other business establishments will not be affected by the change.

"In line with our announcement of early December," said Straub, "we are joining other businesses which have established the five-day week for their business operations. This will be on a trial basis throughout the system. Our customers may leave payments in the depository installed at the office, or they may pay bills by mail and request services by telephone."

Differing from the practices of numerous utilities in other areas, PG&E accepts new business orders or service requests by telephone or mail, Straub pointed out. He said thaat many new residents in this area may not realize that these conveniences are available to them.

Christian Science Lesson-Sermon

"God" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon that will be read in Christian Science Society, Country Women's Club House, Sunday, January 3. The Responsive Reading begins with the forty-sixth Psalm: "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble."

The sermon will consist of readings from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

From Romans is this verse: "And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God" (12:2)

And from Science and Health: "Man, being immortal, has a perfect indestructible life. It is the mortal belief which makes the body discordant and diseased in proportion as ignorance, fear, or human will governs mortals" (p 209).

Cherry Lane Pupils To Enter New Classrooms

Three-hundred twenty-five pupils of the Cherry Lane School just completed, will move into their classrooms at the new school Monday, following their Christmas vacation, Mrs. Ann Meridier, principal, said today.

Cherry Lane school staff has been operating as a complete administrative unit at the Campbell Grammar School while awaiting completion of the new school structure, and the transfer has taken place with a minimum of confusion, Mrs. Meridier said.

Classrooms in the new school are completely equipped, and the only inconvenience for the children is that they will have to bring lunches or go home at noon until the multi-use room which houses kitchen facilities, is finally completed, she said.

Staff at the new school consists of: Mrs. Merle Palmer, kindergarten; Mrs. Jean Myers, first and second grade; Mrs. June Howard, second grade; Mrs. Ellen Ingram, third grade; Miss Madyline Perry, fourth grade; Mrs. Anna Smith, fourth and fifth; Mrs. Rosalie Brusin, fifth grade, and Richaard Cirigliano, sixth grade.

Survey Underway On New Sanitation District Being Formed

Mark E. Thomas, engineer for the formation of County Sanitation District 7, for the Cupertino-Monte Vista area, ordered this week by the County Board of Supervisors, said today a survey is in progress to determine if the district should build its own sewage treatment plan, or seek a hookup with the Sunnyvale or Saan Jose disposal systems.

Boundaries of the area included in the new sanitation district roughly are: Fremont Road on the north, Wolfe Road and Calabazas Creek on the east, Wardell Road on the south, and Stevens Creek and the southward extension of Grant Road on the west.

More than 12,000 persons reside in the district, according to an estimate of Don Hartman, president of the Cupertino-Monte Vista Improvement Association.

Formation of the district was carried out on orders of the supervisors, rather than by election, because less than 2 per cent of the registered voters in the area entered protests.

Sculptured Soap Exhibit Comes To Cambrian School

The Cambrian School at 481 East Casey Road is to exhibit a collection of sculptures carved from white soap by amateurs from all parts of the United States on Monday and continuing each day for the remainder of the week from 8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. This collection is one of the famous traveling exhibits made available to schools, libraries, museums and art centers throughout the United States by the National Soap Sculpture Committee of New York in the interests of sound education and the encouragement of a creative hobby. This is the first time the exhibit has come to the Santa Clara Valley.

The display will be in the main entrance hall of the Administration building with Violet Pomeroy and Paul Lozar, members of the school faculty, in charge. The exhibit includes outstanding sculptures recently submitted in a national competition, some of which exhibits having been national prize winners.

The contest is entered annually by thousands of persons of all ages seeking cash prizes offered by Proctor and Gamble of Cincinnati. The Cambrian school entered an exhibit in 1953 and expects to do so again in 1954, according to Mrs. Pomeroy.

Because of widespread interest in this exhibit, it is open to the public and especially to children, from other schools, without charge.

Stanford To Have A New Dormitory

A $400,000 dormitory for graduate engineering students will get underway at Stanford University early in 1954 according to Wallace Sterling, president. George Crothers, San Francisco attorney gave $240,000 toward the building in memory of his mother, Margaret Jane Crothers of San Jose. The dormitory is to be named Crothers Memorial Hall.

The new dormitory will measure approximately 40x230 feet. It will be two stories high with a full basement. Because of the grade level, the basement will have generous window area and will provide space for club rooms, a small technical library to assist students with their homework, and a museum where developments in engineering will be displayed.

Resembling closely the original unit of the Crothers law dormitory, the engineering residence will have concrete exterior walls of contrasting buff and grey color and a red tile roof.

A bulk grain elevator at the Port of San Francisco has a capacity of one million bushels.

Gubser Says No More Postoffice Changes Planned

Statement by Congressman Charles S. Gubser regarding postmastership appointments.

"Since the Post Office Department has aked the postmaster at San Jose to resign, many people have asked if his dismissal was the start of a trend to remove incumbent postmaster for political purposes. The removal of the San Jose postmaster does not by any means constitute the beginning of such a trend. To my knowledge no other postoffice in my district is under invesigation nor is any such investigation contemplated by the Post Office Department.

"In the San Jose situation I received many dozens of complaints about the postmaster from the employees. I forwarded these complaints to the Post Office Department without recommendation. The subsequent invesigation was conducted solely by the Post Office without any interference by myself and the recommendation arrived at was solely that of the Post Office Department.

"In the future I shall continue to refer complaints regarding the administration of any post office to the proper authorities. I will make no recommendations since I believe removal of a postmaster is strictly an administrative matter.

"After one year's experience in dealing closely with post offices I have come to the conclusion that future appointments should, insofar as possible, be made from within the classified Civil Service. My recommendation of Mr. Lionel Worden for the position of permanen postmaster of San Jose is in keeping with that policy since he has served the post office for 36 years. I feel that he has earned his right to the top job and that his appointment certainly explodes any accusations that the recent move in San Jose was politically inspired. Whenever possible, my future appointments will be of a similar nature."

Local Laundry Announces New Type Machine

Joe Nygren of the Campbell Self Service Laundry, announced last week his shop at the corner of East Central Avenue and Railway avenue has the fifth new maachine of its kind made in the United States, and that it will be in operation the first of the year.

The machine is a combination washer-extractor, dryer, all in one machine, he says, that can handle 40 pounds of washing and extraction or 25 pounds of material to wash, extract and dry in one operation. The completely automatic machine, according to Nygren, is in use in New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles and by the first of the year will be in operation in his Campbell shop.

The machine was developed by the Rheem manufacturing company in Indiana, Nygren said, but will soon be manufactured on a nation-wide basis. The machine was especially designed, Nygren said, to handle all types of rugs on a commercial scale, including shag rugs and rugs up to nine by twevle feet.

LAST ENTRY IN ROSE PARADE IS GOOD EARTH

The last entry in the 1954 Pasadena Rose Parade, "The Good Earth" float of the Southern California Floral Association, which was accepted this week, will portray the bounty of the good earth in a rose-filled Chinese garden.

A beautiful Chinese maiden will sit beneath the garden gate as a touch of Pearl Buck's famous novel about the Orient.

The front of the 35-foot float will be carpeted in red roses with a border of pink azaleas. Red roses also will make a path over a garden bridge spanning a pool of hybrid blue delphiniums. The bridge railing will be covered with sweet pea petals. Floating in the pool will be lotus blossoms.

Yellow Sun Valley roses will form a carpet around the Chinese maiden. To the rear of the gate, which will be covered with salmon and pink stock petals, will be blooming camellias. Ming trees will be located at either side of the bridge.

Multi-colored carnations and chrysanthemums will cover the remainder of the float. The entire border of the float will be done in mums. Lettering will be in white stock petals.

Based on the Tournament theme of "Famous Books in Flowers," the New Year's Day event is the 65th annual Rose Parade and "The Good Earth" is the third straight entry of the floral association.

"'The Good Earth' entry was made possible," Walter F. Swartz (left, in picture), manager of the Southern California Floral Association, said, "through the cooperation and generosity of Monsanto Chemical Company, makers of Krilium soil conditioner and Folium liquid fertilizer." Shown with Swartz, inspecting flowers for the float is Lloyd Miller, the company's district manager.

Russell Petit, manager of the San Jose Chamber of Commerce, president of the organization, said today that hundreds of executives from all over the United States are expected at the convention.

7% Gain Here In Population For '53

Santa Clara County today has a population of 372,500, according to an estimate by the California Taxpayers' Association. This is about 7.3 percent greater than with the 347,000 estimate of January 1, 1953 and 28.2 percent greater than the 290,547 fixed in the April, 1950 census.

While population increases are general throughout the county the greater percent was in the Sunnyvale, Cupertino and Campbell areas.

LAW IN ACTION

WHY WE NEED JUDGES

Why can't our legislatures make laws detailing all kinds of ways in which the laws they pass shall apply? This would make for long laws listing the tens of thousands of ways in which they should apply. Could this be done?

As a practical matter, it has been tried. In our early history many thought that since everybody could read, we could make laws so clear and reasonable that we would not need judges. But, where tried, such laws usually fail. Somebody comes along with a case that doesn't quite fit the detailed pattern.

But suppose a legislature could write perfect laws, you would still need somebody—a judge—to decide if your case fell under such a law. So you must have somebody—a legal umpire—qualified to say where the law applies. A court decides who is right in each case, and forces the other party to comply with the law.

How Errors Are Corrected

But isn't it possible, you ask, that even the best judges may make honest mistakes?

Yes, it is. A system of justice is no more perfect than the men who make it work. People may seek a Solomon for a judge; but Solomons are rare. Your daily business cannot rest on superhuman judges.

You have to allow for errors and you must have a way to correct erors.

Odds are you'll never have a case in the Supreme Court. You may never know anybody who has. For it can handle only a small part of the cases each year. But what the Supreme Court does is important to you. Your most sacred rights — to vote, to speak out, to worship as you please, and the like—have been tested and affirmed by this court many times.

NOTE: The State Bar of California offers this column for your information so that you may know more about how to act under our laws.

Extension Planned For Saratoga Road

Public reaction to a proposal for extending Saratoga avenue across Los Gatos to Main street is to be sought at a meeting scheduled there on January 11th. Mayor Charles Gamble contends that when the present Main street bridge is torn down to make way for the new freeway, there will be a great slowing down of traffic and over a very insecure and hazardous road.

The meeting seeks to find out if Los Gatos wants Saratoga avenue extended to the proposed cloverleaf, thence to Main street. He said the state highway department would leg the extension to the cloverleaf but the city would have to continue it to Main street probably near Charles street.

Alaska Shown As Hunting Paradise At Kiwanis Meet

That the territory of Alaska is one of the world's best fishing and hunting grounds was the belief expressed Tuesday noon before the Campbell Kiwanis Club by Dr. Gabe C. Long of San Jose who demonstrated this contention with a showing of color films involving his own experiences there. Dr. Long, a former resident of Campbell, was introduced by Dr. W. B. Morrell of Campbell, program chairman.

The kodiak bear, mountain sheep, partridges were shown in colored movies as were stream scenes in which red salmon were seen in great number. A telescopic lens brough the game in clear view for the Kiwanians.
